Subject: Re: 2 plate/bridge screws for 740
Posted by Thojil on Fri, 31 Jan 2014 15:01:02 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

The movements still are in the '37 and '39 materials catalogs, but unfortunately Gruen did not have show the part interchangeability info in them yet.

My gut feeling is that most of the plate and bridge screws will be the same. I would go for a 754/756/758 junker.

If you are done with it I can take it off you as I'm still looking for one as well. I have a 756 which has a problem with the setting parts. Should not pay more than $15-$20 for them (there are a few on the bay for astronomical prices...)