

---

Subject: Re: Caliber 151 - (Extra) Precision - 5 1/2 '"

Posted by afire on Mon, 29 Jun 2020 16:38:58 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

I definitely see it too. I looked at the 1926 parts book, and the 87 has that same long clutch lever and other similarities. Cary Hurt, who knows infinitely more than me about these early movements, has said before that he believes that LeCoultre was the supplier of some of Gruen's high end Precision Extra movements.

---