

---

Subject: Re: Caliber 45 (17J) - Madretsch Precision - 13" Hunter

Configuration

Posted by Barney Green on Wed, 15 Jul 2020 15:43:13 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Interesting. So Madretsch started with 125k, a good point for dating would be the July 1906 inscription on my serial #130504 movement #7 from the same filing. Anyone having an idea which caliber # this would be? Should be 11 or 12 ligne.

Serial# 128462 has been pictured in an ad dating February 1st, 1905, if I did not misread this one:

This would be approx. 2000 movements in 1.5 years which would indicate a start in 1902. The Gruen Watch Manufacturing Co. in Madretsch has been registered December 1903 though. Assuming that the movement of #130504 might have been with the jeweler for half a year already, we would be at 2k / year and hit the late 1903 date perfectly with serial # 125001.

Barney

---

File Attachments

1) Cal No 7.JPG, downloaded 2085 times

Nr. 7.

2) 1905 ad.JPG, downloaded 2090 times

---

Page 2 of 2 ---- Generated from Vintage Gruen