Hello Klevay!

Glad to hear of your progress and will always be interested. Part of the mission here is to help support each other with the recovery and restoration efforts we take. The 460 and the closely related 462 are neat movements; they were developed in house and everything I have seen points to being developed/designed by Theibaud. Now that I think about it... has someone found the patent documents?

Anyways... hope we can continue to share ideas in this realm.
