Hi everyone,

I wanted to share this Extra Precision caliber 119 movement with engravings and see what you guys think.

A few interesting points about this one:

- 1.It originally came in a solid gold case, but unfortunately, the seller melted the case down.
- 2.This is not a 50th-anniversary model. From what I've heard, the original factory description refers to this surface treatment as a "Guild style" finish.
- 3.There are visible milling marks on the edge of the bridge. It almost seems like it might have been modified from a caliber 117 to a 119.
