Nope, not the same watch. The Strap 335 turns up on eBay from time to time. It's definitely a much later watch. And although the book says it was made in 14k, I've never seen one, but plenty in gold fill. It's actually a model I happen to like too. The case is rather chunky in a good way. If I ever saw one in 14k, I'd be interested.

Anyway, I'm pretty confident this one isn't in the Master book. I've got a few that aren't, so I don't find it terribly surprising. Import 97 is pretty similar, but the taper of the lugs is different. Import 127 is too, but not a match. Nothing else is really even close.
