If worse comes to worse I dug into the movement drawer and found a 117 parts movement. Used mainsprings are not the best way to go but in a pinch... The balance assembly looks to be OK but I haven't looked closely at it.

I've been thinking since I had to make a couple of custom clock M/S(s). The 117-119 series would be a good one to try and duplicate. If successful then look at others to replicate.
