I think that the Carre is a really fun watch, thanks for sharing yours Jenneke.

I have SNs E1734 and E1314. I've never thought they had coatings (and am on the lookout for ones that do)

The one with the replacement button also has a custom belt clasp. I like having original watches and wasn't thrilled when I first saw this at auction. But after thinking about it more I came to appreciate that someone really used this watch and fixed/modified it for his needs.
