Gruenites,

I have been excessively busy as of late, and not able to post anything else. I still have quite a bit to go (sell that is) but honestly, just have not had time to post more photos. I return from Ft. Lee after 5 December, and will start up again after that. Thanks again to those who have responded, as your kindness has really helped us out....quite a bit!

Warmest and most thankful regards,

Tomas AKA Timeticker
