Hello Gruen peoples , I'm looking for a balance wheel, hair spring,winding stem and original cap to go with the stem to finally fix my granpa's watch. Any and all help would and will be greatly appreciated. I have loved this watch since i was a kid. It's the long one,a " Majesty"? and has numbers around the second hand dial that I've never seen anywhere. Thank you all for reading and helping? Matt T

If no one chimes in, you'll likely do well haunting eBay. Even if you find a non-working movement with broken pivots on the balance, the staffs are still widely available and parts are very much interchangeable.

Keep us posted on your progress.

Hiya Matty,

Let me check my stash. If I have one, I'll let you know. You may be able to re-staff the watch, and re-level the hairspring. Jack is absolutely correct!!! Ebay may be the place to get your fix. Good luck!
