Subject: Caliber 647 (Record)
Posted by afire on Tue, 22 Oct 2019 17:17:05 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

You guys are going crazy with a caliber database, so I figured I should try to carry my own weight.

Here's a relatively uncommon one, the 17 jewel Watch Specialties Co. caliber 647. I'm guessing it was in use from the late teens to early twenties. I think my ID as Record 022K is solid. The distinctive bridges and setting parts seem identical to me. The 647 shows up as a movement option for plate 23-B (Strap 1 style) in the 1918 book, but the case is more like the 23-C with conventional lugs.

This example has a serial number of 858749 and in a sterling case with a serial number 567414. I'm guessing the case was Cincinnati made. It doesn't have any Swiss or other markings.

For any further information, I think you can ask timeliz. I'm reasonably confident I sold it to her!

Subject: Re: Caliber 647 (Record)
Posted by timeliz on Tue, 22 Oct 2019 17:35:16 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

You did.
Funny, I was intending to post this one last night. Got sidetracked.

Here's a straight on pic of the mov plates:

File Attachments
1) Gruen cal 647.JPG, downloaded 2554 times

2) 1923 Country Life - Paris+Square F63.JPG, downloaded 2612 times

No. F-63

popular Gruen Model

adjusted movement, for doctors' and nurses' use, $32.50 and $35.00. F-63—$25.00, $35.00, $42.50, $45.00, $65.00, $100.00, according to movement grade and case—solid gold, ultra quality gold filled, or silver.