Subject: What was your very first watch ever?
Posted by timeliz on Sun, 17 Apr 2022 03:04:58 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Mine was a swiss Lucerne. I was 7 yrs young when I received it.
I still have it and it's on my wrist today...

File Attachments

1) Lucerne ws - very 1st watch.jpg, downloaded 3096 times

Subject: Re: What was your very first watch ever?
Posted by Jenneke on Sun, 17 Apr 2022 13:25:06 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Nice! Very pretty one for a young girl.

Age I got my first probably when I was ten. I don’t have mine anymore. It was a quartz and it had a blue strap, silver round case and white dial. Guess tossed away when the battery died. For sure bought at this store:
https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/HEMA_(store)

Subject: Re: What was your very first watch ever?
Posted by timeliz on Sun, 17 Apr 2022 18:15:25 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Do you wish you still had it?
I don't know at which store my mom purchased it, but I'm certain it was a store in San Francisco.

Subject: Re: What was your very first watch ever?
Posted by Jenneke on Sun, 17 Apr 2022 18:43:48 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

timeliz wrote on Sun, 17 April 2022 20:15Do you wish you still had it?
I dont think so. In fact, in a sense, I see my first Gruen watch (which was my first mechanical watch) as my “first watch. My coin gold cartouche clarendon.

My dad does have his first watch. It does run (no jewels) but sits in a cupboard. It looks nice.