The San Diego Watch & Clock show is happening January 26-28 at the La Mesa Community Center. A student at class last week said he is going and got a $89 round trip ticket with Alaska, for us here on the west coast that's a steal! I might do the "Fly by Night" thinggy, arrive there with a backpack and leave the same day. These shows have been pretty good in the past.

There is a national policy and then there are the local chapters who are running the event. For York, I asked and was allowed to bring one non-family guest with me, as long as their registration accompanied mine. This is how I got Kris, from New Zealand, into the Mart. Was this official? dunno. Maybe some one here would be willing to have you as a guest, if this would be allowed at this mart. Ask the organizers.
