Hi there!
First my apologies if there was a long delay in approval of your first message. There's only two of us admins; I've been out of town for work travel.

The Rebberg 870/871 is not horribly uncommon. Are you seeking a running movement or you need a specific part? The latter is much more easily done than the former. I've a good supply of 870/871 parts and am willing to share. Need more background though please.
