I'm in need of a caliber 870, the 13 ligne Rebberg hunter movement. Good balance would be ideal, but I'll take what I can get. Sub-seconds would also be a plus, but again, I'm a beggar, not a chooser.

I believe there's also an open-face version (860?), which I would imagine would also work as a parts donor.

Thanks for your consideration!

In case anybody has one of these in their junk bin but doesn't know what it is:

That's the same caliber Jack was looking for parts for earlier....

Incidentally, a spare showed up for me today. Has the correct setting works for what I tried to make a replacement. Unfortunately, there is not a balance in it. Its also is a Rolex movement; I'm sure of this because the center wheel and the train bridge are set up for sweep seconds. I do have three other spares that I'll part out but not a whole one with a complete balance; sorry I'm being stingy with my one complete spare that is working. I want a round out-o-doors someday... If you can find a complete balance that needs restaffing I'll do that for you since you have a band I want.

I'll see what I have.

I looked at my spares again. I do have a second balance complete with a good hairspring but needs to be restaffed. Borel claims to have them in stock.
