Gruenties,

I have a nice old CAL 127 for sale.(round one of course) It's now sitting on calibration and pretty sure I won't have much tweaking to do. Pix to follow. Anyone interested, make a fair offer. The case is 14K white filled, and of course, art deco/Victorian???Heck, hard to tell on this one. Anyway, picture soon to follow.

Thanks again to the community, and will let you know when we are up and running. Until then, will still be selling off the great'Mother" load.

Well, maybe I need to unbag all the ones I have in different stages, and send pictures to your pvt e-mail? I just don't want to clog up the website. It would be a significant amount of pictures.

Tomas - Put them here in the for sale forum, no worries about the space. Once it is sold we can delete it and clear up some space. ;-)

Ok, so photos forth coming, and the 127 I just took apart to polish the case. I had forgotten just how many watches I took apart for diagnosis, or had to side step for awhile to either give parts to other folks, or do repairs. I found some nice old Rebburbs too!
